

High Impact Cardiovascular Interventions 2022

University of Stirling Reducing patient delay in Acute Coronary Syndrome- exploring the impact of an innovative nurse-led intervention on real-world patient behaviour & creating a version for family-members.	112,095
C3 Collaborating for Health To reduce the risk of cardiovascular disease morbidity and mortality by supporting mental health nurses to facilitate smoking cessation amongst in-patients.	118,392
Race Equality Foundation Nurse-led motivation of blood pressure control and shared decision making amongst ethnic minority communities using the Heart Age tool online and in primary care practices.	179,400
Queen's University Belfast & Edinburgh Napier University ASMOSUS: Co-creation of a digital resource to build students' skills in ASsessing cardiovascular risk, MOtivating change and SUStaining a healthier lifestyle in themselves and others	199,032
Institute of Health Visiting Strengthening health visitor's role in prevention and early intervention for cardiovascular disease, through application of the family partnership framework to help families adopt healthier behaviours.	146,407
St Christopher's Hospice Create and test an integrated and more comprehensive model of community care for patients living with and dying from advanced heart failure.	98,331
Edinburgh Napier University Support is lacking for survivors of spontaneous coronary artery dissection (SCAD) heart attacks. In this project we will develop a digital health intervention to support physical and psychosocial recovery from SCAD.	184,716
King's College Hospital NHS Foundation Trust Nurse led echocardiography in sepsis: An innovative combination of new technology, advanced nursing skills and health promotion to improve cardiovascular care and patient outcomes	43,117
Chelsea and Westminster NHS Foundation Trust The funding application is to provide tailored care for patients living with Heart failure with Preserved Ejection Fraction (HFpEF) within the London Borough of Hounslow, through the establishment of a remote monitoring hub.	172,500
Queen's Nursing Institute Scotland Supporting four community clinical nurse experts to co-produce lasting change in the health of local people to prevent cardiovascular disease.	61,740
Guy's & St Thomas' Hospital NHS Foundation Trust A nurse-led high-impact programme to develop nursing excellence in inherited cardiac conditions (ICC).	187,189